

Members of The Knothill Family

The Knothill family consists of the descendants of Magnolia Knothill (aka Great Granny Knothill) and Oswin Marshway (aka Great Grampa Knothill).

In our game, halfings usually do not change their names when they marry. Children are typically given the last name of the parent who gave birth to them and are thought of as belonging to that parent's family. Halfings are not strict about gender roles, and nobody will bat an eye if a halfling's gender identity does not "match" their biological sex or status as a mother or father. Families who adopt children can choose which partner will give their last name to the children.

In the world of this LARP, halfings live about twice as long as humans do in our world. Suggested age ranges reflect this.
